Entry requirements   This course is for complete beginners, there are no entry requirements.

Tell me about the course   Learn the basics of computer programming with this beginners course.
You will learn how to write computer programs using the Python programming language. Python programs can be run on Microsoft Windows, Apple and Linux operating systems and is the primary language used on the Raspberry Pi.

You will cover:

Basic input and Output,
working with variables,
data types and logic statements,
building and using your own functions,
Writing your own 'Windows' Program.

How will I learn?   This course will contain a mixture of theory and practical activities.

Will I need to study or practise outside the classroom?   You will need to complete some work in your own time, it is also recommended that you practice what you have learned between sessions.

How will I know I'm making progress?   During the first session, your tutor will discuss your goals and current level in relation to the course. You will have completed an initial assessment prior to the course starting. Based on this assessment, you will agree individual targets which you will record in your individual learning plan (ILP). You and your tutor will review your targets regularly to ensure that you are making progress; these will be written in your individual learning plan.

What will I need for the course?   Please bring a pen and notepad.
Access to a pc outside the classroom is essential for completing classroom projects.

What can I learn next?   Look out for information regarding follow-on courses.
