Before you enrol on this course There are no entry requirements for this course.

Entry requirements This course is for beginners.

Tell me about the course. 3D modelling has become more popular over the last few years with recent updates to well known operating systems including the facility to use most computers with 3D printers. In this introductory course you will learn about some of the applications of 3D design and have a go at creating your very own design using simple packages and tools.

How will I learn? The course will be delivered through a mixture of taught tutor led sessions and hands on activity.

How will I know I'm making progress? Your tutor will set objectives for the course and you will receive regular feedback on your progress against these.

Will I need to study or practise outside the classroom? It is always useful to practice your skills after a session.

What will I need for the course? Please bring a pen and notepad to sessions, it would also be useful to bring a memory stick or have access to cloud storage in order for you to save your files.

What can I learn next? We have a full suite of 3d design courses including 3d printing, CGI Animation and CNC Laser Engraving. Look out for these on our website.

Please Note: Most courses attract a subsidy from the Education and Skills Funding Agency and can be used to match funding for ESF. It is a requirement of the ESFA that you complete various forms at different stages of your course, further information is available on request. Courses are subject to a minimum number of enrolments and could be cancelled if recruitment is low. In some cases, an alternative class at a different location may be offered. Room numbers are subject to change - please check when you arrive at the venue.
