Tell me about the course The awarding body for this qualification is City and Guilds.

The units can be mixed and matched to provide a flexible, individual approach to delivery. Our holistic approach to training and assessment means that all 3 units can be covered simultaneously to provide a fully comprehensive, practical learning experience that will fully prepare you for the real world of assessing vocational competence.

To practise as a full assessor you will need to complete all three units:

Understanding the Principles and Practices of Assessment
Assess Occupational Competence in the Workplace
Assess Vocational Skills, Knowledge and Understanding

It normally takes approximately 6-8 months to complete the full qualification, dependant on prior experience, qualifications, personal commitment and current job role.

How will I learn? Delivery involves group training days, observations by assessor, visits in the workplace, personal research and distance learning, all with the on-going support of a personal mentor/tutor.

An E-Portfolio will be used throughout your course. Full training will be given.

Will I need to study or practise outside the classroom? There is a considerable amount of work for you to do in your own time for this qualification. Please allow a minimum of 3 hours per week for this.

How will I know I'm making progress? During the first session, your tutor will discuss your goals and current level in relation to the course. Deadlines for assignments will be set and written work will be assessed regularly. You will agree your progress and next steps to complete your portfolio with your assessor as the course progresses. You will receive feedback from the delivery team at regular intervals to ensure you are making progress towards the qualification.

What will I need for the course? Please bring a pen, notepad and an A4 lever arch file for your hand-outs. Access to a computer outside the classroom is essential
